synchronicity™
Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil

Synchronicity is who we are. Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil is what we do. Synchronicity isn't our name by accident. The perfect alignment of mind, body, and spirit is our ambition for ourselves, each team member, and every customer we are privileged to serve. We've set the standard for the highest quality Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil you can find anywhere. Our superior plant genetics, gentle hand pressed process, and two decades of industry-leading expertise deliver the most nutrient-dense oil and powerful natural benefits—so you can feel the full effect your body deserves. Synchronicity's products are far superior to what is offered by many CBD isolate products.

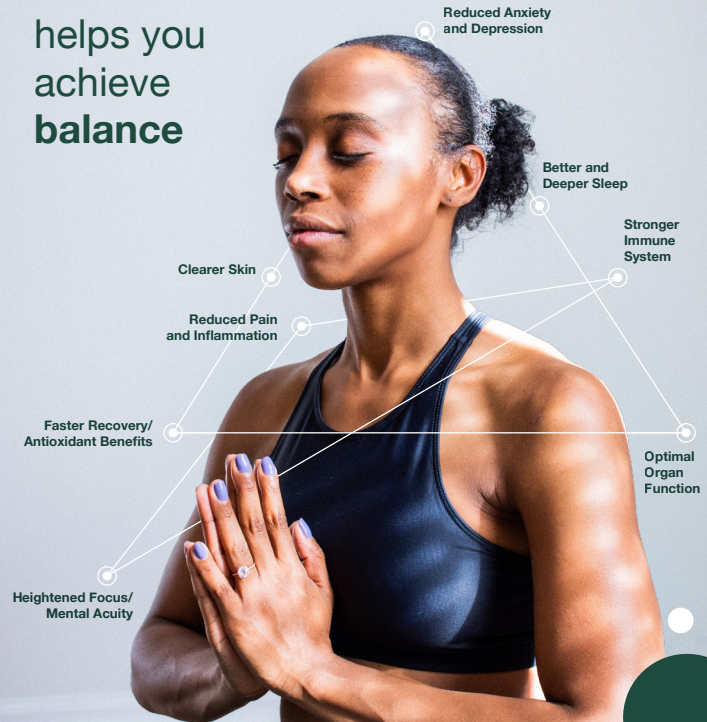

Why Hemp Oil

Your Endocannabinoid System (ECS) is a set of cellular receptors throughout your body. This system is instrumental to regulating processes, allowing your body to maintain healthy function.

How it Works

These cellular receptors are like locks which can be opened by the right chemical molecule keys. These chemical molecules bind to the receptors and deliver specific messages telling the cells how to perform. Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil contains Phytocannabinoid molecules which stimulate activity in these receptors, sending critical information to the body's systems and maintaining homeostasis and optimal health.

helps you
balance

After taking Hemp Oil, you may experience:

- Reduced Anxiety
- Reduced Depression
- Heightened Focus
- Clearer Skin
- Better and Deeper Sleep
- Reduced Inflammation
- Optimal Organ Function
- Stronger Immune System

The Full Story.

The full story about Synchronicity Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil and CBD is this: our Hemp Plant is loaded with dozens and dozens of cannabinoids and terpenes—including CBD.

It also contains many other great nutrients and minerals, bioflavonoids, and omegas that, when combined, provide the Full Entourage Effect. All these natural elements work together for your body to feel the full effect. Other CBD products that contain only one or some of these nutrients don't deliver what your body needs and deserves.

Our Plant

Naturally bred for its Full-Spectrum of cannabinoids and phytonutrients to enhance the human body's endocannabinoid system, or ECS. Our plant's patent is recognized by the National Institutes of Health and the National Center for Biotechnology Information (NCBI) as having a complete cannabis genome.

Our Process

Our patent-pending LipidTrans™ low-heat process isn't the harsh CO2 extraction process commonly utilized in most CBD extractions. Instead, we use cellular bonding to infuse our plant oil's phytocompounds with a lipid like coconut oil.

Our Product

Since our bodies are unique, we created a wide range of perfectly crafted whole-plant, Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil products. From ingestibles to topicals, we go above and beyond to bring you the most elevated CBD and whole-plant products available on the market today.

Our People

Behind every bottle of Synchronicity, you'll find a collaborative team of customer advocates and science, medical and legal experts who passionately believe in the healing power of nature.

Feel the Full Effect.

Unlike most “CBD” products, true Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil contains high levels of phytocannabinoids, plus an array of other phytonutrients including:

- CBD
- CBDA
- polyphenols
- flavonoids
- CBG
- CBNA
- humulene
- beta-caryophyllene
- CBN
- CBC
- limonene
- and more...

Like freshly squeezed orange juice compared to frozen juice from concentrate, there simply is no comparison between Synchronicity and CBD isolate. Only Synchronicity lets you feel the full effect of cannabinoids, terpenes, flavonoids, and other nutrient as they work together in synergy.

Explore the best nature and science have to offer, and experience the full effect that only Synchronicity Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil delivers.

Frequently Asked Questions.

1 What are the possible side effects from using Hemp Oil?

Hemp Oil is generally accepted as safe for adults and children. There are very few, if any, known potential side effects or allergic reactions.

2 Will Hemp Oil cause users to fail a drug test?

As with any cannabis-based product, there is always a minor chance of testing positive depending on the type of test and what that test is specifically testing for. Users are encouraged to talk with their employer or healthcare provider if this is a concern.

3 What is the True Entourage Effect™?

The “Entourage Effect” refers to cannabinoids, terpenes, flavonoids, and other beneficial phytochemicals found in Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil working together in synergy. The combined effect is greater than the sum of the individual effects. Full-Spectrum Hemp Oils deliver the Full Entourage Effect, whereas single-layer CBD isolates and concentrates have a limited ability to do so.

4 What are the commonly understood benefits of using Hemp Oil daily?

Research has shown that introducing external phytocannabinoids, like those found at the highest levels in Synchronicity Full-Spectrum Hemp Oil, may benefit the body in several ways:

- Supports reduced inflammation
- Promotes a calm and peaceful state of mind
- Supports restful sleep
- Helps speed recovery after exercise
